Collaboratively invite you to the Region I/NAD Preconference Event:

The Future of Legal Interpreting: YOU?

Date: July 3, 2018 9-5p

Location: Hartford Marriott Downtown, Hartford, CT

Presenters: Jo Linda Greenfield, Stephanie Clark, Su Kyong Isakson

This session will include structured discussion around barriers to linguistic equity in legal settings via identifying power, privilege and oppression behaviors and trends that reinforce or combat the marginalization of the deaf community, heritage language signers, and people of color; facilitating communities of practice; cultural issues in the interpreting process when teaming with DI, POC, DPI and the open process model of interpreting. Our discussions will be followed by hands-on activities interpreting lines of questioning in legal and community interpreting settings as well as activities on providing feedback and supporting skills development planning. Presentation will be in ASL only, no interpretation provided. Little to no legal interpreting knowledge necessary to participate.

Target Audience: Interpreters and Deaf Community

RID CEUS: CRID is an approved RID CMP sponsor. This professional studies activity is offered at the little/none content level for .7 CEUs.
